

Desalto Corner shelving

Giving shelving a new angle

Desalto Corner meets the needs of homeowners and designers for contemporary, unobtrusive yet highly functional shelving in a space that's usually regarded as hard to use. Combining high-tech materials with innovative production techniques, Desalto Corner is an elegant solution that can stand alone or play a larger role on any wall or space as part of an extended shelving system. The product of research into the optimal use of challenging spaces in the home or office, Corner represents a new approach to the provision of additional shelving. The system comprises two basic elements: a vertical extruded aluminium structural column, and a series of horizontal shelves made of tempered glass which cantilever out into space from the structural column in an almost magical way. With its distinctive look the Corner modular shelving system can be used to add attractive new display space to any room.
